

Kennedy Not So Popular

Loses Ground Due to Civil Rights Stand

WASHINGTON (P)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says President Kennedy probably has lost some popularity because of his espousal of civil rights legislation but will be re-elected in 1964 nonetheless.

"Any time you get into a controversy and a deep and bitter controversy such as this, and where there is a large percentage of people in a section... opposed to the action that is being taken by the government, ... the President is going to lose popularity and administration will lose popularity," the Attorney General said Sunday.

He added in a radio and television interview that while the administration had made no attempt to measure the political effect of its civil rights measures "I have heard of other soundings that have been taken which indicate that the President has lost a good deal of his popularity because of this effort."

Still, the attorney general said, his brother and others in the administration are committed to the civil rights package sent to Capitol Hill last week "and we are going to do all that we can in the executive branch of the government to have it passed."

At the same time, the attorney general sought to discourage a massive march on Washington by pro-civil rights forces while the legislation is being considered.

Kennedy said that while he has "great sympathy" for pickets, parades and demonstrations aimed at correcting grievances, "Congress should have the right to debate and discuss this legislation without this kind of pressure."

Today, assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota plans to add to the Kennedy program a bill to establish a fair employment practices division in the Department of Labor.

Seventeen persons died over the weekend of injuries received in Missouri traffic accidents.

Four persons were killed in a head-on collision of two cars at the east edge of Kansas City on U.S. 40 Sunday.

Four persons were injured fatally and two others seriously hurt in a head-on crash on M5 near Tipton.

Killed in the crash were Christian Young, 74, Sedalia; Mrs. Wilman Hickok, Kansas City, and Mrs. Barbara Kiser, 64, Kansas City. Radford Vickers, 49, St. Ann, Mo., died in a hospital today. In serious condition in the hospital were Vickers' wife, Velma, 44, and Young's wife, Gertrude, 64.

Howard Sharp, 28, of Richmond was killed early Sunday on Highway 13 near Richmond. His car overturned on a curve.

Woodrow Herald Kerns, 46, of Elmo, Missouri, and Ann Hunt, 14, of Maryville, were killed in separate one-car crashes near Maryville.

Lawrence Craddock, 54, was killed Saturday night when his car collided with a fire truck in Kansas City.

A motorcycle rolled over a car on Missouri 32 near Flat River and claimed the life of a rider, Tommy Lee, 32, of St. Louis.

Earlier Saturday, three separate accidents killed Glenn Buckner, 61, of Bethany; Richard Armstrong, of Prairie Village, Kan. and Thomas George Rutledge, 45, of St. Louis. Rutledge was an executive with McDonnell Aircraft Corporation.

Richard Bland, 34, a Joplin dairy employee, died in a Joplin hospital Sunday night of injuries received in a collision north of the Joplin city limits June 14. It was the second death resulting from the accident. Miss Ruby Bettes, 24, Joplin, driver of a pickup truck, died June 15.

In Fiscal Year

Urge Added Fund For Dam Project

Senators Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long announced today they have asked the Senate Appropriations Committee to approve an additional $850,000 for Kaysinger Bluff Dam and Reservoir next fiscal year, to assure the start of construction work on the project in Fiscal 1964.

In statements to Chairman Allen Ellender (D-La.) of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works, the two Missouri Senators asked that $1,500,000 be budgeted to complete pre-construction planning and get construction under way in the year beginning July 1. At present, the proposed 1964 budget calls for $650,000 for pre-construction planning.

Combined with $1,000,000 budgeted for highway construction and relocation in the area, the increase sought by the Senators would raise the Fiscal 1964 installment on the Kaysinger development to $2,500,000.

"Now that the project is fully authorized and scheduled, delay in construction will postpone the multiple benefits of flood protection and reservoir development, at the same time work unnecessary hardship on the owners of the homes and businesses which must be moved in the development period," Senators Symington and Long said in their statement to the Appropriations Committee.

The request for Kaysinger was the largest increase sought by the Senators as they proposed that Missouri's water development budget in Fiscal 1964 be raised from $22,538,400, covering 21 projects, to $24,435,200 covering 25 projects.

Their additional requests would provide more funds for flood control work in the Little River Basin of Southeast Missouri and the Chariton River channel of North-Central Missouri, and speed surveys of potential new projects on the Little Blue River in Jackson County, in the Meramec Basin of Eastern Missouri, and on Wears Creek near Jefferson City.

One of 15,000 telescopic sights and a fingerprint on it led the FBI to Beckwith at Greenwood.

They found five of the imported Japanese six-power Golden Hawk sights went to Mississippi, all to a Grenada gun dealer.

One was traced to Beckwith, a gun collector, whom the FBI questioned Friday night without getting any answers.

Saturday night at a meeting arranged by Greenwood attorney Yerger Moorehead, a relative of Beckwith, FBI agents arrested Beckwith under provisions of the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

It's Now Or Never

Legislators Hope to End Session Saturday Night

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Sen. Maurice Schechter, D-Creve Coeur, tried to get the Missouri Senate to break up today and recall two resolutions passed last March. He did not succeed immediately.

The Legislature passed two resolutions urging the adoption of two constitutional amendments. One would bar the U.S. Supreme Court from interfering with state legislative apportionment. The other would permit the legislatures of two-thirds of the states to submit amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

The two resolutions sailed through the Legislature with little debate and Schechter charged the hasty action was taken without seriously considering the issues involved.

He first tried to suspend the rules so his recall resolutions could be taken up immediately. But Sen. Albert M. Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, objected to that procedure so the resolutions were shunted to the Judiciary Committee.

tee, which Spradling heads. Schechter said he had been assured his proposals would get a hearing when the committee meets Tuesday. There is practically no hope the resolutions could get through both houses this late in the session. Speaker Thomas D. Graham, D-Cole County, sponsored them in the House.

As the Senate opened its final week of work it passed and sent back to the House a bill that would require boats to be equipped with sewage treatment devices so they could not dump raw sewage into Missouri's lakes and streams.

Passed and sent to the governor was a bill that would permit a portrait of Mark Twain, the author, to be moved from the Capitol to the Mark Twain Shrine at Florida, Mo.

This is now or never week for the Legislature. The session must end by Sunday midnight but leaders of both houses hope to wind things up by midnight Saturday.

Demos Work On Site For Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats get down to the business today of picking a site for their 964 presidential nominating convention with Chicago reported a slight favorite among six bidding cities.

The Republican National Committee's choice of San Francisco for its convention brought television-radio network pressure to pick the same city for the Democratic meeting. This would avoid a transfer of heavy broadcast equipment.

There were reports that, all things considered, President Kennedy would prefer to receive his second nomination in the Middle West, where Republicans hope to marshal a substantial portion of their efforts to defeat him for reelection.

The site committee, however, has other financially attractive offers from Atlantic City, N.J., Baltimore, Detroit, Miami Beach, Miami and Philadelphia.

The full national committee meets Tuesday to act on the recommendation of the site committee and another committee which meets today to recommend the allocation of convention delegates.

The Republicans got guarantees of $650,000 in cash, some free hotel rooms for convention officials, programs and other benefits for agreeing to meet in San Francisco. Sessions will be held in the Cow Palace, where Dwight D. Eisenhower was nominated for a second term.

The selection of San Francisco was attributed in part to the feeling among party leaders that local publicity would gain early identification for their candidate with the voters in a state Kennedy lost by a narrow margin in 1960.

The July 13 opening date signaled Republican intentions to get their campaign under way early. Democrats are not expected to convene until mid-August.

Kennedy already has picked Gov. Edmund G. Brown to run his California campaign. Last year Brown won re-election in a battle with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who had carried California in the 1960 presidential contest.

The Republicans charted a four-day meeting, with the possibility of a fifth, if the fight over their top nominee becomes a long drawn out affair.

The Democrats probably will settle for a three-day show, starting Kennedy with a personal appearance accepting the nomination.

Showing Signs Of Approaching Fourth of July

Certain signs of an approaching Fourth of July are reports of youngsters shooting fireworks in Sedalia — a practice forbidden by city ordinance.

Sunday's police blotter carried these reports of fireworks noises: 1000 block of East 13th at 12:32 p.m., 11th and Herold at 4 p.m., 600 block of West Sixth at 9:30 p.m., and 26th and Massachusetts at 10:14 p.m.

Police also received a report from Broadway Drive-In, Broadway and Thompson, at 10:42 p.m. stating a juvenile had thrown two firecrackers into a ladies restroom while two girls were inside. The youth then proceeded west on Broadway on a bicycle, it was reported.

At 10:45 p.m. Sunday police were called to 26th and Washington to investigate a report of some boys on foot shooting out street lights and discharging firecrackers.

JFK Off On Right Foot In Europe

Commits Country To Defend Western Europe On Arrival

By J. A. DEAR

BONN, Germany — June 23 — President Kennedy got off on the right foot today by reaffirming the American commitment to defend Western Europe from Communist aggression as soon as he stepped down from his airplane.

Said the President to the waiting crowd at Wahn Airport: "The United States is here on this continent to stay. So long as our presence is desired and required, our forces and commitments will remain. For your safety is our safety, your liberty is our liberty, and any attack on your soil is an attack on our own. Out of necessity as well as sentiment, in our approach to peace as well as war, our fortunes are one."

The nagging doubts about the American intentions that the Germans had heard voiced by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, outgoing Chancellor of the Federal Republic, who whacked Mr. Kennedy on debarkation: "Your visit, Mr. President, is a political act. On June 10 you stated... That the United States stood by its commitment to defend Western Europe and West Berlin... You said the United States would make no deal with the Soviet Union at the expense of other nations and other peoples."

Though this extraordinary greeting came close to insult, it was characteristic of Adenauer whose suspicious nature is notorious.

On basis of "information" obtained by secret agents he once attempted to tell John McCloy, former US High Commissioner in Germany, what happened at a conference McCloy attended as American delegate. McCloy, a dour Presbyterian banker, finally snapped "I know what happened. I was there. Adenauer was unconvicted."

Unhappily many officials in Germany share the Chancellor's doubts. And there suspicions are fed by President De Gaulle of France. The French press, which reflects his view, is saturated with glum warnings that Kennedy and Khrushchev have already

Holds Special Audience

Pope Will Direct Efforts To International Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI told the leaders of the world today that he would do everything possible to contribute to an international peace founded on truth, justice, love and freedom. The new pontiff addressed greetings to the world's peoples, nations, leaders and governments at a special audience for the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican State.

He pledged that the Vatican under his reign would not interfere in "the affairs or in the interests of the world's nations, but would be to which our unforgettable predecessor conferred a singular splendor — is to contribute to the affirmation of peace founded as Pope John XXIII proclaimed with authority on the four pillars of truth, justice, love and freedom."

"Following his example, we plan to undertake in this domain all that depends on us," he said. The four pillars Pope Paul referred to were outlined in Pope John's encyclical "paxem in terris"—peace on earth.

Victims of the crash were identified by the Highway Patrol as: Mrs. Barbara Lee Kaiser, 64, 3006 Grand, Kansas City. Mrs. Wilma Hickok, 68, 3716 Walnut, Kansas City. She was a passenger in the Kaiser car. Christian A. Young, 74, 1518

Mrs. Gertrude Young, 66, wife of Christian Young, broken left leg, possible internal injuries. She is in fair condition at Bothwell Hospital.

The Highway Patrol said a 1957 Chevrolet coach, being driven north by Mrs. Barbara Lee Kaiser, 64, Kansas City, and a south-bound 1962 Ford, driven by Radford Vickers, 49, St. Ann, Mo., collided head-on on the curve on Highway 5 about one mile south of Tipton in Moniteau County.

Mrs. Kaiser and Mrs. Hickok were killed outright in the crash. Christian A. Young was taken to Bothwell Hospital by ambulance, but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Radford Vickers was brought to Bothwell Hospital with elbow and rib fractures and a dislocated hip. His condition, however, worsened and he died about 7:30 a.m. Monday morning.

The Highway Patrol said Mrs. Young of Sedalia was a sister of Radford Vickers.

Mrs. Kaiser's body was taken to the Richards Funeral Home in Tipton and later transferred to the Melody-McGilley-Eyler Funeral Home in Kansas City.

JFK Meets Adenauer For Talks

Would Strengthen Ties Between US And West Europe

BONN (P)—President Kennedy and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today discussed problems involved in trying to create a multinational NATO nuclear navy and to strengthen the Atlantic partnership between the United States and Western Europe.

They met alone for two hours. Spokesmen for the two men also announced that they had talked over forthcoming East-West negotiations in Moscow on a nuclear test ban treaty. Their conference covered trade relations between the United States and the European Common Market as well.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said that the results of the talks continuing into the afternoon, will be published in a communique to be issued later today.

Kennedy, who received a loud and enthusiastic welcome from half a million Germans at the start of his European tour Sunday, went to Adenauer's office in the Palais Schaumburg in late morning. The two men talked with only interpreters present.

At the same time, in a separate meeting at the Palais Schaumburg, other U.S. and German officials went into problems of Berlin, conditions in Communist East Germany and the proposal for forming a multinational nuclear force.

Salinger said that the multinational force project was talked out in greater detail by the ministers than by the government chiefs. While he would not make any of the details public, it was understood that the U.S. and German leaders were seeking allied action on setting up the force.

Salinger denied that Kennedy was having any more back pain than usual. The President suffers with chronic back trouble.

Kennedy's back seemed to be troubling him as he knelt at Mass Sunday in Cologne Cathedral.

This was the second continuance granted Carter. A preliminary hearing had been scheduled for June 6, but was continued to Monday morning, June 24.

No date has been set for the hearing as yet.

Level Eight New Charges In Scandal

LONDON (AP) — The British government leveled eight new morals charges today, one of them involving abortion, against Dr. Stephen Ward.

The 50-year-old osteopath, a key figure in the Profumo scandal, was again refused bail. He went back to jail to await a full hearing Friday.

Nature of the new charges, one accusing Ward of procuring a woman identified as "Miss X," emerged in legal fencing between defense and government lawyers.

Ward was arrested June 8 on charges of living off the earnings of prostitution. The prosecution announced at his first court appearance that it had more serious charges against Ward. Rumors immediately began flying that the charges might involve security or blackmail, but Ward's attorneys said the latest accusations concerned neither.

Defense attorney James Burge said the first five new charges are expansions of the original charge. The sixth, he continued, "refers to a lady, Miss X, being procured on Jan. 5, 1963, and is all really part of the same allegation."

The other two charges accuse Ward of advising "an unknown person" to commit a crime—"unlawfully using an instrument to procure the miscarriage of a woman," Burge said.

George Wigg, Labor party expert on defense and security, charged that three Americans who have been working out of London were behind an international blackmail syndicate providing call girls for top men in London and New York.

Wigg said the three Americans fled London after exposure of some ramifications of former British War Minister John Profumo's affair with call girl Christine Keeler. Wigg did not name them.

Wigg, who first called attention in the House of Commons to rumors about Profumo and Christine, added in newspaper and television interviews that another major government scandal involving security risks will be exposed within six months.

The Liberty Park lagoon yielded a bicycle Sunday evening and the bike has been turned over to police.

Blue Young reported Monday morning that one of the front plate glass windows at his shop, Blue Young Sheet Metal, 715 W. Main, was broken by a pellet or shot from a BB gun sometime over the weekend. The window was valued at $79 approximately.

Carolyn Stillion, 905 East Sixth, reported at 5:40 p.m. Sunday that her house had been broken into Saturday night. Entry was gained by removing a screen from a west front window. The house was reported ransacked, but nothing is believed missing.

John Fultz, 504 West 22nd, charged with parking on the wrong side of the street, forfeited a $2 bond.

Phillip Matthews, 17, 1911 West Broadway, received an injury to his left foot early Sunday morning when a .22 caliber rifle held by a companion on a camping trip accidentally discharged.

The Matthews boy was brought to Bothwell Hospital for treatment. The bullet broke a toe. Sheriff Emmett Fairfax, who was called to investigate, reported Fairfax said Matthews and three other boys had been on an overnight camping expedition on Flat Creek south on Route 135.

The accident occurred about 7:15 a.m. Sunday, according to the sheriff.

Fairfax said the gun was held by a 16-year-old juvenile boy. The youth's name was not revealed by the sheriff.

Leo Smasal, Route 1, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Monday morning for a third degree burn on his left hand. The hospital report indicates the burn was caused by a cutting torch. He was treated by Dr. T. J. Hopkins, then released.

Leonard E. Miller, 3, 520 North Quincy, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Monday morning for a splinter under a toe nail. He was treated by Dr. Karl Gonsler, then released.

Albert Dillon, 401 West 18th, reported at 12:48 a.m. Sunday that the glove compartment of his car was ransacked and a carton of made a deal on Berlin. To allay these fears is important. But the President's immediate job is larger.

It is to make a Europe revived realize the strength it now has, and the strength it can gain through concerted economic action.

While Europe was helpless, economically and militarily, the truth of America's commitment was unquestioned. Doubts have arisen as strength has been regained.

Once he has convinced Europe of America's good faith, the President must persuade its leaders that Europe can not only contribute to its own defense but to that of other areas whose Communists are on the attack. That may take some doing. The age of Europe's leaders practically precludes their taking a fresh view.

A barn was completely razed by fire about 5 p.m. Sunday at the rural home of Charles H. Worley, Sweet Springs. About 2,500 bales of hay were ignited and, at noon Monday were still burning. A tractor and tools were in the barn. The Sweet Springs Fire Department was called.

At noon Sunday, the Sweet Springs Fire Department made another run to extinguish several blazing acres of grain. A combine was damaged extensively in the fire.

Fires In City

A fire believed to have originated from wiring in the basement did a total of $600 damage at a home owned by Rex W. Hutchings at 906 West 20th at 2:13 p.m. Sunday.

Firemen used two booster lines to douse the fire.

Damage was set at $500 to the house and at $100 to the contents.

Ed Sullivan's 15 Years A Long Time

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Sullivan celebrated his 15th anniversary in television Sunday night with a 90-minute show stitched together from old Sullivan show appearances captured on film and video tape.

The program was not exactly representative of his CBS program through the years—no drill teams, animal acts, or acrobats and no one did an imitation of Sullivan. But there were a lot of star names.

There was an awkward bit of conversation between Sullivan and Clark Gable, quips, if I remember rightly, from something plugging a Gable movie. There was a mad sketch made in 1951 with Jackie Gleason—then almost a skinny fellow—and Art Carney.

Gary Cooper played a scene from a movie. Jack Benny came up with a miser gag. Fred Astaire danced. There were Russian dancers, short takes from a lot of comedians.

Anyway, it proved that 15 years is a long time.

NBC had rough going covering the National Open golf playoff Sunday. The three players were far from any television cameras when the network coverage started at 4:30 p.m.

Announcers chatted nervously and endlessly for almost an hour, helped out by showing video tapes of Saturday's play. When the players finally reached the cameras, NBC was forced to postpone "Meet the Press" an hour later than scheduled. Last week, "Meet the Press" lost out completely to golf, but this week's interview was Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and NBC wasn't about to knock him off the air.

Alas, it didn't come off at all.

LONDON (AP)—Actress Bebe Daniels is slowly recovering from a stroke and "we are all very hopeful she will pull through," her husband, actor Ben Lyon, said Sunday night.

Civil Rights Message

President Kennedy's broad civil rights proposals represent just about the heaviest down payment any modern-day president has ever made on his party's civil rights platform planks.

The Democrats' 1960 platform was a sweeping affair in this field. And the President's new message, together with earlier proposals and actions, leaves almost no part of that party document untouched.

The platform called for: Stronger Negro voting rights, including elimination of literacy tests and poll taxes as voting requirements.

Speed-up of school desegregation, with every affected school district submitting at least first-step compliance plans by 1963. Aid to those districts facing special transition problems.

Power to the United States attorney general to begin federal court suits to bar denial of any civil rights.

A new fair employment practices commission to secure equal opportunity in employment.

A permanent civil rights commission with broader authority than the existing one created in 1957 on a temporary basis.

Improved employment opportunities for Negroes throughout the federal service and on all government contracts.

An end to discrimination in federal or federally assisted housing.

Before the President's big, new program went up to Congress, he already had acted through executive order on housing and equal employment in the federal establishment.

Earlier this year he had proposed a renewed, stronger, though not permanent civil rights commission, and an easing (but not elimination) of literacy tests for voting, not to mention aid to school districts in process of desegregating.

FEPC "equal opportunity" legislation has been in the congressional works for some time, and has in fact just cleared its first House committee hurdle.

The current message gets into new ground, however, in urging authority to the attorney general to start suits in school desegregation and public accommodation (lunch counters, etc.) cases. Right now, such suits are begun only by the complaining individuals.

The platform is more sweeping suggesting the attorney general have power to start suits in any kind of civil rights action. For that matter, so was the quite similar proposal of former President Eisenhower — which was stricken from the 1957 civil rights bill.

Nor has Kennedy here urged the kind of first-step compliance timetable for school desegregation which the platform demanded.

But in two respects, at least, his message goes beyond the platform. There was no call, as there is now, for a federal law specifically barring discrimination in restaurants, stores, hotels, theaters. This idea is not only new, but untested in the courts.

Most of the things that are new in the President's message would give the attorney general added specific and broadly discretionary power.

They may or may not be enacted. If they should be, they would make the Justice Department perhaps the busiest, and certainly one of the costliest agencies in the federal establishment.

Tough Fight For Civil Rights Law

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Should the federal government be able to tell privately owned businesses which cater to the public that they can't discriminate against Negroes?

President Kennedy says yes. He asked Congress to pass a law which says yes, too. This part of his civil rights program, unfolded last week, will bring one of the toughest fights in Congress.

Southern Democrats are against it. But some Republican leaders — like Sens. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Barry Goldwater of Arizona — balk at it, too.

Kennedy did not ask that every last business, no matter how small, be compelled to stop discriminating. But it seems likely almost every business could be affected.

If Congress did pass such a law, it would not automatically stop discrimination by business places. Those who wanted to spend money fighting it could go to court.

This is an explanation of what Kennedy asked, how it would work, and what it is based on. Everything Kennedy said hinges on two sections of the Constitution:

1. The 14th Amendment. It says state authorities — this includes local authorities — must treat all citizens equally.

2. The commerce clause. This empowers the federal government — and the Supreme Court has long upheld this — to regulate interstate commerce or prevent interference with it.

Kennedy asked Congress to invoke both these constitutional provisions in passing the kind of law he wants.

The 14th Amendment says only that states must treat all citizens equally and cannot discriminate. The Supreme Court ruled in 1883 that the amendment does not outlaw discrimination by private businesses, like hotels, or theaters. This year the court, under the same amendment, said states or local communities cannot compel private businesses to discriminate.

These old requests in a message of more than 20 major legislative

It might seem, from those two decisions, that private businesses can do as they please about refusing to serve Negroes.

Not quite. There can hardly be a business in any place or of any size which is permitted to operate without a state or local license.

Couldn't, then, a license by a city or state to a business which refuses to serve Negroes be considered state approval or even authorization for such discrimination?

That's the point Kennedy raises.

Therefore, since the 14th Amendment forbids state participation in racial discrimination, Kennedy argues Congress should pass a law forbidding it in businesses serving the public.

He is also asking Congress to act under the constitutional authority which lets the federal government protect interstate commerce.

Back in 1946, for instance, the Supreme Court ruled out state

Jim Crow laws which segregated Negroes in interstate buses because, the court held, segregation puts too much of a burden on interstate commerce.

So, with his eye on that commerce clause, Kennedy wants a law forbidding discrimination by a privately owned establishment dealing with the public when a "substantial" part of its business involves interstate commerce.

Two kinds of places come to mind at once: a department store which sells goods it bought from all over the country; or a hotel or motel or highway restaurant whose main business is from interstate travelers.

But what does "substantial" mean? How much business is "substantial"?

That's one place where Kennedy's proposal will run into a bitter quarrel in Congress, particularly among Southern Democrats and those with views like Dirksen and Goldwater.

Civil Rights Message Poses A Big Job for Congress

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's civil rights message is in effect a second State of the Union message sent to Capitol Hill in June instead of January.

Using the current race relations disturbances as a peg, the President has hung onto it all the major domestic reforms he has recommended before. He includes tax reduction, the need to promote greater and more rapid economic growth, aid to education, his youth programs, more vocational training and even the Area Redevelopment Act, which the House recently killed, but which the Senate is trying valiantly to bring back to life.

The President now wraps all these old requests in a message of more than 20 major legislative recommendations, with some new demands for sweeping new executive powers. He tells Congress to stay in session till it gets all the parts put together in a single omnibus bill, this year.

The rationalization for this approach is fairly obvious.

Most of the 20 million Negroes in the United States are at the bottom of the economic heap. They have the lowest paid jobs, the lowest average income, the worst housing, the lowest educational level, the highest unemployment, the highest percentage on relief.

Until this one-ninth of the population is better educated and put to work at higher skills there can be no full employment, no general prosperity, no economic growth sufficient to absorb all the new workers entering the labor force every year.

"Delinquency, vandalism, gang warfare, disease, slums and the high cost of public welfare and crime are all directly related to whites and Negroes alike," says the President. He adds that, "Recent labor difficulties in Philadelphia may well be only the beginning if more jobs are not found in northern cities."

Here the President indirectly brings into the civil rights message his juvenile delinquency program, medical care under Social Security, urban renewal, public housing, the anti-crime drive and improvement of labor-management relations. The President even requests a company-by-company, plant-by-plant and union-by-union report on equal employment opportunity agreements covering 20 million workers.

The President is marshaling all the executive powers of his office to further his objectives. He has told his secretaries of labor and health, education and welfare to deal directly with local communities on work relief for unemployed fathers and aid to dependent children, wherever state cooperation lags.

He has earmarked $400 million which he had previously cut from his January budget requests for new aids to education. He has instructed the Departments of Commerce, Labor and Health to

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Adjournment Nears For Legislature

On midnight Sunday, action on all bills before the Missouri General Assembly will come to a standstill, with final adjournment coming two weeks later.

This has been a long, worrisome session for the legislators with numerous issues arising to bring tempers to the boiling point at one time or another during the past nearly six months.

At this juncture, it would appear that the people of Missouri have done fairly well by the 72nd General Assembly, with good prospects looming for greater gains in the field of mental health through intensive treatment centers, curbs on drunken driving, a new, logical Sunday sales law, etc.

But all this costs money. . . a great deal of it. And the legislature has taken care of this through upping the state sales tax from two cents to three cents on the dollar. This increase becomes effective in October.

At the close of the 1961 legislative session, there remained 12 items on the House calendar. Rep. James Trimble, the majority floor leader, is fairly confident that most matters now on the calendar will be cleared up.

There has been some talk that work possibly can be completed by midnight Saturday, a day early. But many legislators feel this is merely wishful thinking and are prepared to work up to the stroke of 12 Sunday night.

During the next week or so, the expression "sine die" will be kicked around quite a bit in connection with the impending adjournment. According to state law, "The General Assembly shall automatically stand adjourned sine die at midnight the fifteenth day of July. . ."

The meaning of this term is short and clear: The legislature is adjourning for its last time in the regular session. These two weeks of July will be spent signing measures approved prior to June 30.

Briefly, here are some items recently approved by both houses and sent to the governor for signing:

STATE AID TO SCHOOLS

HB 137, introduced by Rep. Baltz, merely changes the date when the state Board of Education must distribute money to the public schools. Formerly, money available June 30 was distributed on a calculated needs basis September 15 each year. This bill changes the June 30 date to Aug. 31, leaving the distribution date intact.

LEGISLATIVE POST AUDITOR

HB 85 creates the position of Legislative Post Auditor under jurisdiction of the Committee on Legislative Research. The fiscal officer and his staff of three persons, would examine, at the request of the Committee on Legislative Research, all books, records and accounts of any state officer or department. It is estimated this new position will cost over $50,000 per biennium.

PARTY LINE EMERGENCIES

HB 213 provides that any person who wilfully refuses to relinquish a telephone party line when informed that an emergency exists, is guilty of a misdemeanor. The bill further provides that all telephone directories distributed after the effective date must contain warnings to this effect.

PUBLICATIONS FUND

HB 110 would establish a "publications fund" for the purpose of having the state pay the cost of an election submitted to the people. Under current practices, such costs are paid through an appropriation by the General Assembly. Election costs here include printing and publishing expenses as well as the usual costs.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

HB 94 would allow communities to sell buildings constructed or acquired through proceeds of bond issues to private individuals or corporations for industrial development purposes.

REP. BELT EXPANDS SALES TAX REMARKS

In a recent issue of this column, Rep. Ronald Belt of Macon, the minority floor leader, was reported as saying the sales tax increase is the key to any success which might be attributed to this legislature.

Later, Belt indicated that his remark had not been fully carried. What he had intended to say, the veteran Republican legislator declared, was the sales tax proposal was one of the key bills and until the measure had been disposed of the course of this legislative session could not be determined.

Self-Dosing Can Never Replace Accurate Diagnosis

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — My husband is a great one for aspirin. If he thinks any one of us is coming down with a cold, he gets out the aspirin and gives all of us some to prevent it. He says they won't do any harm. What do you think?

A — Even before the day of television commercials, self-medication with aspirin was a common practice, but one I do not recommend.

Too many people take drugs re-examine their programs to see if they cannot give more aid to depressed areas and the long-term unemployed.

In short, he makes civil rights an economic problem, not a social problem to handle on an emotional or a moral basis.

"Our concern with civil rights must not cause any diversion or dilution of our efforts for economic progress," the President declares. "For without such progress the Negro's hopes will remain unfulfilled."

Finally, the President is setting up by executive order—until Congress gets around to establishing it by law — a new Federal Community Relations Service. Its function will be to try to restore peace to communities threatened or torn by racial tensions.

This race relations conciliation service will be empowered to act on invitation of local communities or on its own motion. The latter option is an experiment intended to minimize violence, and it may work that way. But interference by the federal government in what has always been considered the domain of local authority may also mean the beginning of the end of states' rights forever.

The powers which the President's civil rights message asks Congress to bestow on the United States attorney general is another long step in that direction.

Congress will be taking a long, hard look at this whole bill of particulars. It's going to be a long, hot summer in Washington, last-ticulars. It's going to be a long, hot summer in Washington, last-ing till Thanksgiving before it's all over — if not CHRISTMAS.

without proper medical advice, and suffer from harmful side effects or waste valuable time that could have been better spent getting an accurate diagnosis.

As a result of self-dosing with aspirin, a vicious habit has become prevalent, namely taking two tablets on the theory that if one is good two must be better. The exact opposite is true.

The standard adult dose of aspirin is five grains (one tablet). For most headaches a second tablet is not needed but, if it is needed, after one hour it may be taken. If this does not relieve the headache, no amount is likely to do any good.

Much larger doses may be given for rheumatic fever but, with this exception, large doses are likely to cause serious side effects. These may include nausea, vomiting, ringing of the ears, bleeding from the stomach lining, and rarely, mental confusion.

Some persons who are coming down with a cold may get relief from some of their symptoms by taking one aspirin every four hours, but I can assure you that cold will in no way prevent a cold.

Q — What are the side effects of Benedryl? My doctor gives it to me for an allergy.

A — Diphenhydramine (Benedryl) in the prescribed dose may produce undesirable side effects in some persons.

These consist chiefly of drowsiness (making it unsafe to drive a car), inability to concentrate, mild dizziness, tremors, palpitation of the heart, and increased nervous tension.

Q — Often my hair gets full of electricity. Brushing makes it worse. Does electricity in the hair cause it to spit at the ends? How can I brush my hair and avoid all that electricity?

A — Friction between any two surfaces always produces a certain amount of electricity. If your hair is long and you brush it with a fast stroke, it will produce more electricity than if your hair is short or if you use a short stroke.

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson — plus 96 Senators' wives, are displaying reluctance to help sponsor the gala Washington premiere of Cleopatra for the benefit of a very worthy charity, the International Rescue Committee.

Even the announcement that Elizabeth Taylor will now finally marry Richard Burton hasn't changed the aloofness of Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Johnson and 96 Senators' wives.

However, some Cabinet wives are more intrepid; also at least three Senators' wives.

Mrs. Robert McNamara, charming wife of the hard-working Secretary of Defense, and Mrs. Douglas Dillon, beautiful wife of the Secretary of Treasury, are sponsoring the benefit which helps escapees from behind the one-time Iron Curtain. The three Senators' wives who seem unworried about "Cleopatra" are Mrs. Claiborne Pell, wife of the Senator from Rhode Island and an heiress to the A & P fortune; Mrs. William Fulbright, wife of the senior Senator from Arkansas; and Mrs. John Sherman Cooper, wife of the senior Senator from Kentucky.

There was a time when Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kennedy were the only leading Washington socialites to sponsor an Elizabeth Taylor opening. But this was back when Kennedy was a young Senator from Massachusetts and Elizabeth had embarked on only one or two love affairs.

Today both the Kennedys and Miss Taylor have made considerable advances from those relatively obscure days — each in the chosen profession at which they excel, politics and moving pictures.

Adenauer's Chickens

When President Kennedy sits down with Chancellor Adenauer in Bonn their discussion is not going to be entirely about Berlin and NATO, but about chickens and wheat.

These everyday products are causing more friction between the USA and West Germany than anything else, and may eventually lead to the withdrawal of some American troops.

In the past, Germany has been the best customer of the American farmer. Arkansas and Georgia, both represented by powerful

NEW YORK TIMES: Censored Mail Here, Too?

When Post Office employees are permitted to hold up mail deemed "Communist political propaganda," we are experiencing the same kind of infringement on freedom to read that exists in Communist countries. Call it security or call it by its rightful name of censorship, this puts the Government's eye on our mailbox.

The statute permitting postal censorship is now being challenged in a suit as an unconstitutional interference with the mail in violation of the First and Fifth Amendments. Interception of "propaganda" mail was stopped by Presidential order in 1961, only to be revived by Congress. It passed the law last January over the opposition of President Kennedy, the Post Office Department and the Department of Justice. The flaws of sanctioned censorship are apparent to those who would have to decide what is or is not Communist political propaganda.

The basic reason why this procedure should be stopped is that it is an affront to the intelligence of citizens to have their mail "cleared" by the Post Office. This is a job Soviet censors are accustomed to, but not American postal officials. And we don't want to be.

country as he has, it is inevitable that some of his unhappy countrymen will somehow take some pot shots at him and his helpers.

Senators (Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Russell, chairman of the Armed Services Committee), have built up thriving poultry industries with their chief foreign market, Germany. Now suddenly, thanks to the Common Market and increased tariffs, Arkansas and Georgia poultry shipments to West Germany will be largely cut off.

The West German wheat market is even more important. A total of $1 billion of U.S. wheat has been sold to Western Europe every year in the past, all of it paid for in dollars and most of it to Germany.

But now, President De Gaulle has boosted the French support price on wheat up to the equivalent of $2.30 a bushel, while the Germans have boosted their wheat support price up to $3.15 a bushel. In comparison, the American support price is $1.82, and beginning in 1964 there will be no support price on wheat whatsoever — thanks to the recent U. S. Wheat Referendum.

Chickens Or Troops

France and Germany are now hiking their tariffs against U. S. wheat to the point where our Common Market sales will be almost nil. And the French farmer is planning to plant 6 million acres to take advantage of high tariffs and push out U. S. wheat. This means the United States will lose about $1 billion in wheat shipments.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the other day, Secretary of Defense McNamara said: "The total U. S. military operations abroad cost approximately $2,700,000,000 per year. This is offset by sales of U. S. manufacturers military equipment of about $1 billion. Therefore there is a net adverse effect on foreign exchange of about $1,700,000,000."

If you add to this a new loss of $1 billion because of curtailed farm sales to Common Market countries, you bring the dollar imbalance back up to $2,700,000,000. This is why Chancellor Adenauer will have to make up his mind either to buy more wheat and chickens from the United States or have fewer U. S. troops guarding West Germany. He can't have his troops and bar the chickens too.

GOOD FARMING

Watch for Corn Borer

With the large amount of big corn in the area, we can expect some damage from corn borers. The corn borer moth lays eggs only on corn that is at least 30 inches high when the leaves are extended and we had a lot of that.

In checking fields in the central and northwest area of the state our extension entomologists found leaf feeding ranging from 12 to 40 per cent of the plants. Also, there were four to thirty egg masses per 100 plants.

These early planted and susceptible fields should be watched closely during the next week to ten days for increased leaf feeding. When 75 per cent of the plants show leaf feeding, controls are justified. Insecticides should not be applied until egg hatching has been largely completed.

There has been no change in the recommendations from those made last season. As sprays, applied with ground equipment only, use 1 1/2 pounds DDT (3 quarts 25 per cent DDT emulsifiable concentrate) or 4 ounces endrin (1 1/4 pints 19.5 per cent endrin emulsifiable concentrate) per acre.

Somewhat better control can be obtained by using 10 to 15 gallons of spray per acre applied with drop nozzles between the rows and one nozzle directly over the row than by applying the entire gallonage directly over the row. Heavy concentrations of DDT sprays in the whorls may result in whorl burning during periods of high temperatures. Or apply granules with either aircraft or high clearance ground equipment. Use either 20 pounds 5 per cent DDT granules, or 15 pounds 10 per cent toxaphene granules, or 12 pounds 2 per cent endrin granules per acre.

Grasshopper Control
Last week we gave you information regarding what could be used to spray areas infested with young grasshoppers. Any of these materials, plus chlordane, can be sprayed around the margins of the garden, but do not apply any of them, except Sevin and malathion, to garden crops.

Other Participants in Pasture Contest
We told you last week that L. F. Raabe, of south of Dresden, and Smith Higgins, of north of LaMonte, were the two pasture winners for the month of June. The Raabe pasture included about 28 acres. However, about 12 acres of it was treated this spring, with three tons of lime, 1000 pounds of rock phosphate, 150 pounds of potash and 300 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

Raabe told the judges that the 45 yearling steers made about one circle each day of the 16 acres that was untreated and then did all their grazing on the 12 acres that had been top dressed. These steers have been receiving about 5 pounds of corn per day so their pasture needs are not as great as otherwise.

The Cloyd Merk pasture, south of Smithton, had been nominated in May but the card came in after the nominations were closed for the month. It contained 12 acres of orchard grass, timothy, ladino and red clover and the judges reported a very fine stand. It was a new seeding, having been planted in September, 1962. The cattle had been removed from it when the judges were there and were grazing on sudan grass.

K. E. Tylan of LaMonte, who was one of the 1962 winners, also had a very fine pasture. He had cut 93 bales of hay from the five acres, and nine head of cattle had been on the pasture at night since April.

No Market for Wet, Musty Seed
For a bit of seed harvest advice, when cutting or combining, avoid weed patches as dock, red sorrel, wild onion or garlic and buckhorn. Weedy seed is subject to heavier dockage.

Avoid moisture damage by windrowing. Thresh with combine with pickup attachment when seed heads are thoroughly dry. To combine direct, wait until seed heads are full mature and dry. Start in late morning after dew has evaporated.

Seed with moisture content above 11 to 12 per cent, if binned or sacked, will heat and spoil quickly, often in 12 to 24 hours. This damaged seed will bring only a fraction of the good seed price — maybe no market at all. If any doubt about moisture, spread freshly harvested seed at once in a sheltered place. Spread thin, turn seed frequently. If artificially dried, watch air temperature—105 degrees taken at fan outlet is maximum recommended.

These recommendations apply to fescue, orchard grass, brome grass, timothy, redbud and seed grains.

Matt Green Named to Head CROP

Pettis County is one of 20 in the state of Missouri to revive the CROP program. CROP is the community wide food appeal of Church World Service and State Councils of Churches. Representatives from farm, civic and church groups on CROP committees provide a broad base for voluntary support.

A local organization meeting was held in the meeting room of the employment service building last Monday evening. Oscar DeWolf served as convener of the meeting.

Matt Green of Smithton was named chairman of the County organization. Other officers include Erwin Rumpf of LaMonte as vice-chairman; Tom Smith of Hughesville, secretary and James A. Harvey of Sedalia, treasurer. Oscar DeWolf was named commodity manager. I have been asked to serve as publicity director. Rev. Charles Likely of Green Ridge was named promotion director and Donald Callis, who farms with his father, Gordon, north of Sedalia, was named campaign director.

Callis will name township representatives to assist in a canvass about harvest time. Contributions sent overseas will be handled by Church World Service there.

Information on Wheat
We have had some good reports on new wheat varieties, there have been some questions on freeze damage and there is still time, in many cases, to do some cleaning of wheat bins.

Vaughn White of near Green Ridge told me recently that a 16 acre field of the Monon soft wheat had yielded 55 bushels per acre. He had pastured it until the first of April.

We have had some reports of some wheat heads that were only partially filled. Some late freezes were apparently responsible and some fields in other areas failed to set any grain at all.

Many of you still have time to give that wheat bin a good cleaning. Spray the inside surface with methoxychlor or malathion until the surface is wet but not running off.

Don't store grain with high moisture content. It should be 13 per cent or under. If you plan to use a fan for drying, there is no point in using the grain protector, malathion.

Inspect bins for signs of insects or rodents every two to four weeks, especially during warm weather. If you do not use the grain protector, plan to fumigate six to eight weeks after putting your grain into storage.

New Material For Grassy Corn

While 2,4-D is still our recommended material for eliminating weeds in corn, a new material has recently been cleared which has been quite effective in controlling grass in corn. This material is Lorox.

This material costs about $3 per pound and it takes from 1 to 2 pounds per acre for a band application. It should be applied as a direct spray when corn is 12 to 18 inches high and weeds and grasses are no more than 8 inches tall.

We do have further information about it at the office and we also have a small amount that could be used as a demonstration if you were interested.

Soybeans After Wheat

The Clark soybean variety will still probably give the most bushels of beans per acre when planted after barley or wheat. At Columbia in six years tests, 46 days difference in planting time of the Clark soybean made only 12 days difference in maturity. In those tests, too, the lowest yield on Clark was higher than the highest of any of the other five varieties tested.

Water for Lagoons

A question has been asked as to how much water should be in a lagoon for a hog finishing floor before it can be used. Ralph Ricketts, Extension Agricultural Engineer, says it takes nearly

THE ROOT-KNOT nematode, a microscopic worm, is a serious soybean pest in Missouri. University of Missouri field crops scientists are studying soybean resistance to the nematode with goals of developing resistant varieties. They are also studying the relationship between the nematode and root rots caused by pathogenic (disease causing) fungi. Nematodes are grown in large numbers on tomato plant roots, then transferred to soil where soybeans will be grown, says Thomas Wylie, assistant professor of field crops. At left, Wylie examines tomato plants. At right, he displays knots caused by nematodes.

Pasture Top Dressing Ups Growth On Howard's Farm

By MERLE VAUGHAN
Extension Director

I harvested some grass plots recently at Marvin Howard's farm to get some idea of the response from top dressing practices on pasture there this spring. Yields to June 10 varied from 1 1/2 to nearly 2 1/2 tons of dry vegetation per acre.

The pasture was primarily fescue, ladino clover and lespedeza and was seeded five years ago. It was in quite good shape as to lime and phosphate. However, two tons of lime and 1000 pounds of rock phosphate was added in March besides 500 pounds of 12-4-8 commercial fertilizer.

This pasture was already green 34,000 gallons of water per 100 hogs to fill a lagoon.

While he says it is not necessary to have the lagoon full, before starting to use it, at least a foot of water is desirable. To fill a lagoon, surface water can sometimes be diverted by a plow furrow on a grade of six inches per 100 feet. As soon as the lagoon is filled, this surface water should be eliminated.

Accepting Entries to Beef Cattle Testing Station

I have a letter from R. K. Leavitt, supervisor of our Livestock Testing Center at Columbia. Leavitt says, "We are accepting entries to the beef cattle testing station for the fall and winter test periods starting in September. This test is for calves dropped in February, March and April."

Entries consist of one bull and one steer by the same sire for any number of bulls. A nomination fee of $25 per head must accompany the entry. For entry blanks and rules you can write him at 125 Mumford Hall, Columbia, Mo.

Bluestem Region Brightens

A report from the St. Louis Producer's News states the grazing situation in the Bluestem regions of Kansas and Oklahoma has improved considerably with recent rains over the area, and now prospects are good for the most part.

It was obvious, however, that the stock water situation could be improved. Continued rains will be necessary to insure a good season in the famous Bluestem region this summer.

Purify Cistern Waters

It's practically impossible to keep water in a cistern purified. If a cistern does test pure, they are not apt to stay that way. It is impossible to build a filter that will let water through as fast as it comes off of a house and still have one that will do a decent job of filtering. A person can batch treat a cistern with bleaches such as purex or chlorox. One quart of bleach for a 2,000 gallon cistern is about right. However, you cannot expect a permanent effect from such treatments.

Probably the best way to be sure of safe water from a cistern is to purchase a chlorinator unit that works in connection with the pump. Various types of these chlorinators are on the market, costing from $100 upward.

SEE YOUR MAN Always fresh at

MFA Central Cooperative SEDALIA, MISSOURI

In early April when neighboring pastures were still brown. In fact, on April 15 it was named the top pasture in the Pasture of the Month Contest for April. It is interesting to note that the other four pastures in the contest for the north side of the country had also received 500 pounds of top dressing per acre.

Small plots had been fenced on each of the three treated areas and also on the untreated one, so some rough estimates could be made on yields. I harvested a seven square foot area in each of them on June 11.

On a green basis there appeared little difference in total weight between the no-treatment and where two tons of lime had been used. However, there was a good stand of legumes where the lime had been added and no sign of them in the untreated.

Also on a green basis the plot that had received lime, rock phosphate, and top dressing was slightly ahead of the one that had rock phosphate and top dressing but no lime. Also there were ample legumes on the plot with lime and none in the other. Both were about a third heavier than the first two.

Accurate weights were taken of the dry grass. Again weights were similar for no treatment and lime alone with both yielding about 1 1/2 tons of dry vegetation. The spread had widened between that receiving rock phosphate and top dressing and the one receiving lime in addition to these.

The first yielded two tons per acre and the second 4831 pounds or nearly 2 1/2 tons. While the samples harvested were small, they certainly illustrate the value of pasture treatments.

Came Early This Year

Dick Wood, 2912 East Twelfth, reports that he had roasting ears out of his garden on June 15, which proves how early this year's season has been. Usually the first corn on the cob from the garden around about July 4, for the big holiday dinner.

Fertilizing Your Crops In Garden

Do your vegetables need applications of fertilizer during the summer months? And what kind should be used? How much? On what vegetables? These questions pertain to most summer vegetable crops.

Starting with the tomato: The tomato requires a good, fertile soil for maximum production. The basic fertility level — phosphorus, potassium, and calcium—should have been provided prior to planting and plowed under or disced in deeply. These elements are hard to get into the soil by mere surface applications.

So the summer fertilization program should only include nitrogen. Ammonium nitrate is the most commonly used form of nitrogen. Your tomatoes should receive at least three applications. The first when the fruits on the first cluster are about the size of a tennis ball. The next two applications should be at three to four week intervals after the first.

These summer applications of nitrogen will help keep your tomato foliage green and healthy, and will help size up the fruit. Use one pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 feet of row, or a rounded tablespoon per plant. Do not allow the fertilizer to come in contact with the leaves, and if at all possible, water it in.

Cucumbers and cantaloupes should receive about one pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 feet of row about one week after blossoming begins and again three to four weeks later.

Apply your first nitrogen side dressing to sweet corn when the plants are eight to ten inches tall and again about a week after the tassels appear. Use at same rate as for cucumbers.

Green beans should receive one pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 feet of row after heavy bloom and set of pods. Use the same rate for onions, but apply one to two weeks after bulb formation starts.

Scatter the nitrogen fertilizer along the row in a six to 12-inch band. Get as close to the plant as possible without getting the fertilizer on the foliage. On stalked tomatoes the band should be at least 12 inches from the stem. For convenience, a pint of am-

50 pigs. A thermostat can be used to turn the fogger on and off automatically at temperature settings. Tips for handling hogs that are shipped to market:

1. Try to keep from loading in the heat of the day.
2. Work hogs slowly and as easily as possible when loading in hot weather.
3. Don't overload the truck.
4. Use sand or sawdust for bedding and dampen it.

monium nitrate is about one pound. If you use a mulch, apply the nitrogen fertilizer right on top of the mulch and water it in. Nitrogen will readily move down to the root system during rain or irrigation. But remember, the nitrogen must get to the root system to be of value to the plant. During dry periods, irrigate after applying nitrogen.

Do not use nitrogen side dressings on sweet potatoes or watermelons. These crops get plenty of nitrogen from the average garden soil. In fact most garden soils have too much nitrogen released from the organic matter for these crops. As a result they seem to "go to vine" and produce poorly.

Asparagus should be fertilized shortly after the cutting season. If you haven't done this job yet, now is the time to do it. We use a complete fertilizer on asparagus, such as 12-12-12 or similar analysis. Use at the rate of two pounds per 100 feet of row.

If you are going to renew your strawberry bed this year, an application of nitrogen will stimulate runner production. Before reducing the old row to a narrow band of plants, broadcast the nitrogen fertilizer along the row when the plants are completely dry. Brush the fertilizer off the leaves and then renovate the bed. Use about a pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 feet of strawberry bed, three feet wide.

If you know or suspect your soil to be low in phosphate, you might profitably use about three pounds of 13-39-0 fertilizer per 100 feet of row instead of the ammonium nitrate. The phosphate will need to be worked into the soil with a rotary tiller or similar implement as you renovate the strawberry bed.

Big Crowd Watches

Records Fall by Wayside On Fast Track Saturday

Records fell by the wayside on a fast track at Thunderbowl Speedway Saturday night. About 2,300 spectators watched as five modified cars surpassed the old "A" record and as the "B" record also fell. New records were established in nearly every race.

Setting the new "A" track record of 1:16.28 was Ken Taylor, Slater. Also surpassing the old record were Roy Hibbard, Marshall, with 1:16.48; Jim Raines, Slater, with 1:16.49; Walter Sorrells, Columbia; with 1:16.61; and Bill Utz, Sedalia, with 1:16.67. The old record was held by Roy Hibbard.

The new "B" Modified record was set by Dave Gauldin, Malta Bend, with a time of 1:17.68.

Needless to say, the track was in extremely good shape after the recent rains, and was extremely fast by the time trials.

In the "B" trophy dash, Dave Tracy, Higginsville, was first, setting a new track record of 1:12.50. Donnie Hurd, Sweet Springs, was second, and Tom Maycock, Sedalia, was third. Tom Corgan, Carrollton, had held the lead for two laps when his motor went to pieces, putting him out of the race. Dave Tracy won the race, his first win of the year, by moving up from the last starting place.

The "A" trophy dash was taken by Jim Raines, Marshall, with a time of 1:07.90. Roy Hibbard of Marshall was second, with Bill Utz, Sedalia, taking third. All four cars were running close in the race when Walter Sorrells spun out on the number two turn. Raines took the win, his first trophy of the year, from Roy Hibbard, who had held the lead for two laps.

First place in the first "B" heat went to J. J. Lyle, Knob Noster, with a time of 2:32.73, a new record. Joe Knight, Sedalia, was second, with Cliff Carlson, Green Ridge, third; Roy Carry, Knob Noster, fourth; Bill Blackburn, Versailles, fifth. Jay Lyle took the lead on the first lap and had no trouble keeping it. Lyle really had his Hudson moving as he broke his own record. The second place slot was undisputed until the last lap when Joe Knight took over from Cliff Carlson.

Tom Maycock, Sedalia, was first in the last "B" heat, with a time of 2:23.89, a new record. Jean Markes, Marshall, was second; with Dave Tracy, Higginsville, third; Don Hurd, Sweet Springs, fourth; and Dave Gauldin, Malta Bend, fifth. Maycock got an early lead and went on to win, breaking the track record. Dave Gauldin and Henry Powell, Sedalia, changed positions for four laps, trying for the fifth place spot. The fans reportedly got a "real thrill" from the way these two pros ran their cars wheel to wheel.

In the first "A" heat, Marvin Gibson, Sedalia, set a new record of 2:19.95 in taking the win. Second went to Kenny Austin, Sedalia, with Shorty Acres, Windsor, third; Sonny Roberson, Windsor, fourth; and Don Cooper, Sedalia, fifth. Marvin Gibson took the win, in record breaking time, by moving up from last place. Gibson does a beautiful job of driving for a new "A" driver.

The second "A" heat went to Dale McDaniels, Kansas City, with a record of 2:12.48 time. Ken Taylor, Slater, was second; Walter Sorrells, Columbia, third; Bill Utz, Sedalia, fourth; and Jim Raines, Marshall, fifth. McDaniels took the lead on the first lap and cut seven seconds off the old track record in winning. All cars in this heat finished under the old track record.

In the Hobo Race, Walley Calvert, Sedalia, was first with a time of 3:21, a new record. Jerry Key, Sedalia, was second; Bo Bo Baker, Columbia, third; Harley Kuhlman, Sedalia, fourth; and Ray Parker, Sedalia, fifth. Walley Calvert took the lead in the third lap, holding it all the way to break the old record.

In the "B" Feature race, Dave Gauldin, Malta Bend, set a new track record with 6:02.97, in taking first place. Don Hurd, Sweet Springs, was second; Tom Maycock, Sedalia, third; Dave Tracy, Higginsville, fourth; and Jean Markes, Marshall, fifth. Dave Gauldin took the lead in the first lap with Don Hurd pressing him all the way to the finish. Jay Lyle lost control coming out of the number two turn, spun into the infield, and hit one of the hobo cars in the side. Lyle was unhurt and reportedly no serious damage was done to either car.

In the "A" Feature race, Ken Taylor, Slater, took the first place slot with a time of 5:41.60. Dale McDaniels, Kansas City, was second, with Roy Hibbard, Marshall, third; Walter Sorrells, Columbia, fourth; and Jim Raines, Marshall, fifth. Ken Taylor took the lead in the first lap, with Dale McDaniels breathing down his neck all the way to the finish. Taylor drove the race like the true champion that he is. Bill Utz running fifth in the race, blew a tire to go out.

In the last Hobo race, (no time) Wally Calvert, Sedalia, was first, with Glen Pope coming in second; Bo Bo Baker, Columbia, third; Harley Kuhlman, Sedalia, fourth; and Jerry Key, Sedalia, fifth. Calvert took the lead in the first lap and continued on to win both the race and popularity with the race fans.

Best American Track, Field Stars Protect Perfect Toll

ST. LOUIS (AP) — America's best track and field athletes made it clear they intend to protect their country's perfect track record against Russia with a record-busting show in the 75th AAU meet here last weekend.

A world record 9.1 by husky Bob Hayes of Florida A&M in the 100-yard dash, the first dead heat in AAU history and a dramatic mile race topped the list.

In all, six meet records fell, two were equalled and an American record was tied. Marks in 10 of the 19 events were the best this season in the United States.

The AAU track and field committee named a team of 51 men and two alternates to represent the United States in four major European meets starting with the Russian meet in Moscow July 20-21.

John Oelkers of Tulane, who coached the 1962 U.S. team which defeated Russia 128 to 107 at Palo Alto, Calif., had high praise for the '63 team.

"I thought the '62 team was the best ever assembled in the U.S.," Oelkers said. "There's no doubt this one is even better."

Dodgers Beat Cardinals In Sunday Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A three-run homer by Jim Gilliam in the fifth-inning propelled the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 4-3 victory over the National League leading Cardinals in St. Louis Sunday.

Kansas City suffered its seventh loss in the last eight games as the A's handed Detroit an 11-2 victory.

The Tigers scored four runs on misuses by Kansas City. Three scored on bases-loaded walks and another run scored when Jake Wood was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded.

Moe Drabowsky was the victim of the A's poor defensive play and took his third straight loss without a victory. He allowed 6 hits, including a solo home run by Rocky Colavito, in 6 1-3 innings.

Ken Harrelson hit a solo shot for the A's in the third. St. Louis outbit the Dodgers 9-6 but stranded six men.

Ernie Broglio took the loss, his third against eight victories.

Dick Groat put the Cards ahead in the first with a two-run homer.

St. Louis scored its other run in the fifth on triples by Tim McCarver and Julien Javier.

Gilliam scored the Dodgers first run in the fourth when he reached second on an error and came home on Wally Moon's double.

Bob Miller was the winner with 5 1/3 innings of relief work.

St. Louis is idle today. The A's play Detroit tonight with Ed Rakow scheduled to start against Don Mossi.

Unique Status Adds Much To Sparkling Performances

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Carl Willey is the only state of Maine in the major leagues. Warren Spahn is the only Warren Spahn.

To their unique status each added a sparkling performance Sunday.

Willey pitched his third shutout of the season, became the only New York Mets starter who has won as many as he has lost and played the key role in pitching the club out of the National League cellar for the first time ever as late as June.

Spahn beat the San Francisco Giants 10-4 for his 10th victory, eighth complete game and 337th career win, and hit his 33rd home run, high for National League pitchers.

Spahn's victory kept the second place Giants from moving up on the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, who fell to the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3.

While the leaders were faltering, the Cincinnati Reds charged to within one game of the top by sweeping a double header from the punchless Houston Colts, 4-0 and 8-1. The Colts fell into 10th place.

Pittsburgh battled back to take the Chicago Cubs 7-6.

Willey won the first game of a doubleheader over the Philadelphia Phils 5-0, and Tracy Stallard, with ninth-inning help from Al Jackson, won the second 4-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees walloped the Boston Red Sox 8-0 for their 10th win in 11 games, and fattened their league lead to two games.

The second-place Chicago White Sox split with Cleveland, winning 2-1 and losing 2-0. Baltimore edged Minnesota 4-1. Washington took Los Angeles 4-0 and Detroit topped Kansas City 11-2.

Willey, 32, was born in Cherryfield, Maine, and even speaks to umpires with a broad A. He set the Phils down with two hits, triples by Johnny Callison in the sixth, and evened his record at 6-6, best on the Mets.

The Mets had been last since May 10, and were in the same spot from May on last year.

Jimmy Piersall hit his first homer as a Met in the first game, his 100th of his career, and celebrated the occasion by circling the bases running backwards. Triples by Sammy Taylor and Al Moran and Ron Hunt's homer were the big blows in the second game.

Spahn gave up homers to Harvey Kuenn and Tom Haller and trailed 3-2 after Hank Aaron's 21st home run for the Braves. With one out in the fifth, the fantastic 42-year-old left-hander homered off Jack Sanford to tie the score. That set off a seven-run inning.

Bob Purkey threw the first game shutout for the Reds over the Colts, the first complete game this season for the sore-armed right-hander who won 23 games last year. It was the fourth straight shutout defeat for the Colts, tying a major league mark, and the sixth straight victory for the Reds.

They made it seven in the second game behind Joe Nuxhall and Don Zanni, who pitched the last two innings. Houston finally scored in the second inning, after 40 scoreless innings.

Johnny Edwards hit a three-run homer for the Reds in the opener and Bob Skinner, Vada Pinson and Jesse Gonder homered in the second game.

Jim Gilliam's three-run homer off Ernie Broglio carried the Dodgers to victory and to within 1 1/2 games of the lead. Gilliam hit it in the fifth after a walk and Maury Wills' single.

The winning pitcher was Bob Miller, who took over for starter Johnny Podres in the first after Dick Groat had hit a two-run homer. Miller went six and allowed the other run, and Ron Peranowski finished up.

Roberto Clemente struck the major blow for the Pirates, a three-run homer in the seventh inning. The Cubs knocked out starter Vernon Law in a four-run first but frittered away the lead on some shabby fielding. Ron Santo homered for a 6-4 Cub lead but Glen Hobbie couldn't hold it.

Too Much Beer, Too Much Sun, Too Much Youth

JONES BEACH, N.Y. (AP) — Police broke up a free-for-all in a beach parking lot Sunday and hauled off 10 bathing-suit-clad young men on disorderly conduct charges.

"Too much beer, too much sun and too much youth," was one park policeman's description of the disturbance involving about 100 youths fighting with fists and beer cans.

A few black eyes and bloody noses were the only injuries. The arrested youths, all white, were jailed in Mineola to await arraignment today.

Jim Bouton Success Story Told In Six Weeks of Play

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

From so-so finisher to super starter-finisher in six weeks—that's the success story of Jim Bouton.

The hefty youngster wrote another winning chapter Sunday in the New York Yankees' 8-0 romp over the Boston Red Sox, firing a four-hitter that helped the Bombers edge a bit further in front in the American League race.

For Bouton, a routine reliever until pressed into the starting rotation six weeks ago, it was victory No. 10. He has nailed eight of those in his 10 starts and has lost just once since his bullpen days—by a 10-0 score.

For the Yanks, it was the third straight victory after an opening game loss in the set at Boston and it pushed the once-surging Red Sox five lengths off the pace.

Next on the Yankees' agenda is a four-game stand at Chicago starting tonight against the second-place White Sox, who slipped two games behind Sunday in a split with Cleveland.

Pete Ward's two-run single in the eighth inning gave Chicago a 2-1 decision over the Indians before Cleveland right-hander Barry Latman tossed a five-hit 2-0 shutout at the White Sox.

Elsewhere in the AL — Al Smith's key hits and Stu Miller's neat relief highlighted Baltimore's 4-1 victory over Minnesota; the Detroit Tigers broke loose for eight runs in the eighth inning and crushed Kansas City 11-2; and Tom Cheney pulled the Washington Senators out of a 10-game losing slump, allowing only four hits in a 4-0 shutout over the Los Angeles Angels.

The Yanks, on the way to their 10th victory in the last 11 games, built up a 4-0 lead as Bouton held the Red Sox hitless until Dick Stuart's leadoff double in the fifth inning. Roger Maris helped put the finishing touches on the rout with his 14th homer in the eighth and a run-scoring single in the ninth.

Bouton, 10-2, recorded his sixth complete game and lowered his earned run average to 2.06. Earl Wilson, forced out with minor shoulder injury suffered in a first-inning collision with teammate Ed Bressoud, was the loser.

Lefty Jack Kralick blanked the White Sox until two were out in the eighth inning of the first game, then singles by Al Weis and Floyd Robinson and a walk loaded the bases, setting the stage for Ward's deciding hit. Ray Herbert won it, with strong two-inning relief from Hoyt Wilhelm.

Latman struck out seven and did not allow a walk in the Tribe's second game victory. Cleveland got its two runs in the first against towering rookie Dave DeBusschere, combining singles by Willie Kirkland and Tito Francona, a hit batsman and an error.

Smith homered, doubled and singled for Baltimore, driving in two runs, scoring one and setting up another. Miller turned the Twins back without a hit after replacing Steve Barber with the bases full and one out in the seventh. Barber won his 11th against five defeats, with Dick Stigman the loser.

The Tigers managed only four singles in its eight-run eighth against the Athletics, but also had the aid of Kansas City's wild pitching and inept fielding.

Bubba Phillips had a triple and three singles in Detroit's 10-hit offense. The A's clipped Mickey Lolich for 11 hits, but the rookie southpaw went the distance as the Tigers beat Kansas City for the third time in a row. Detroit had lost 10 straight before taking on the A's, who have dropped seven of their last eight.

Cheney, notching his fourth shutout for the last-place Senators, permitted only one Angel beyond second base. Larry Osborne, with three hits, and Ed Brinkman, with a two-run double and single, paced Washington's attack. Dan Osinski was the Los Angeles starter and loser.

Moose Boros Reluctant To Take Check

BROOKLINE, Mass. — (AP) — Julius (Moose) Boros, the oldest man ever to win the National Open golf tournament, is a hulking, plodding, pleasant fellow who rarely shows emotion but lifts a disdainful eyebrow when anyone mentions the Big Three.

"I felt a little reluctant to accept that big check," Boros quipped with $16,000 in his baggy pants after a 1-under par 70 Sunday had swept him to his second Open title in a three-way playoff with ailing Arnold Palmer and young Jacky Cupit.

"I thought it was already in the bank for one of the Big Three."

Boros wouldn't dwell on the subject but it was plain he shared the feeling of many professionals that the public has been led unjustly to believe that golf starts and stops these days with Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

The fact that he whipped the mighty Palmer by 6 shots—even though Arnold was off his feed, said he felt lousy and rushed away from the course with hardly a word—obviously was a great satisfaction to the 6-foot, 200-pound veteran from Connecticut.

Since Boros turned professional in 1947, he has performed as well as anyone in America's premier championship with nine finishes in the top 10. He has won the Open twice, the first time in 1952, and has been second twice, third once, fourth twice, fifth one and ninth once.

Although at 43 he is 10 years older than any of the Big Three and 20 years older than Nicklaus, who failed to make the 36-hole cut here while Player ended back in the pack, Boros has been the finest player on the PGA tour in the last two months. He has won three championships since May 12, beginning with the Colonial National Invitation and continuing through the Buick Open before the big one, and in that period alone has pocketed nearly $45,000 of his 1963 total of $59,680. His career earnings top $300,000.

"He is a great player," said Cupit, who finished three strokes behind Boros with a 2-over-par 73. "I think he rates as one of the best three players in golf right now."

Boros showed no false modesty about his abilities after the last shots had been fired at the 6,870-yard, par 35-36-71 old course of the Country Club.

With Cupit away shakily and Palmer far off his game and finally out of it completely with a triple bogey 7 at the 11th hole, Boros took control with birdies after brilliant close-in iron shots on the fourth and fifth holes. He ran in a 10-foot uphill curling putt for another birdie at the ninth to make the turn in a 2-under-par 33 and then clinched matters with a 10-footer for a birdie at the 17th when Cupit was making a mild challenge.

"I just go out there and hit the ball," he said. "I don't have any plan. When I feel right, when I'm hitting the ball, I can play well on any golf course."

America Far Away From Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—There's a ruffle of drums, a baby blue spotlight lights the stage which suddenly lifts out of the dance floor, the trumpets blare and a leggy blonde with an overflowing bosom glides forward belting, "I left my heart in San Francisco."

Until that instant you might have been in Charley Maples Sky Room in Reno.

But when the big blonde in the sparkly dress mentions San Francisco, Dallas, Milwaukee or any town east of the Golden Gate and west of Washington Bridge, the audience starts to stomp and whistle.

Then you know you're in Korea with a bunch of homesick guys. Even though the amply filled dish on stage goes by the name of Doris Lee, to them she's Agnes Brown, the girl next door or the one left behind crying a river because her soldier boy had to do another tour overseas.

Walker Hill, the $5 million playground the Republic of Korea built on the banks of the Han River to increase its dollar holdings, is losing money. A recent Saturday was a record night, however, and the management hopes it has found the formula.

"Soldiers would jeep half way across Korea to hear a pretty girl sing," a management spokesman said. "But such cool cats as Louis Armstrong and the Mills Brothers are for more sophisticated audiences."

Neither of these famous acts paid expenses at Walker Hill.

But filling the night club isn't the only solution. The biggest percentage of Walker Hill's 240 bedrooms have been vacant since the opening April 8.

Two weeks ago, however, the 8th Army approved Walker Hill as a rest and recreation hotel. Approval came after sanitary inspectors okayed the kitchens, restaurants and water plant.

A plan was scrapped to include Korean girl hostesses for the "Moncks," as U.S. soldiers dedicated to celibacy while in Korea now call themselves.

Slot machines are the only form of gambling on the premises.

There still is considerable controvery over Walker Hill, but of your nickels or dimes as the having such a beautiful establish-ment in such a distressed area is so incongruous, the contrast alone might make it a success.

"I wouldn't go to the damned place," snarled a major. "I got a stake in Korea, after ten months duty here, and I can't see the ROKs spending their money for Walker Hill. Just go to one found-ling home and you'll see what I mean."

In addition to high kicking chorus girls and specialty acts, the night club has an 18-piece orchestra and serves dinners. Officers and enlisted men dance with their wives, or dates, who may be girls from the services or Koreans from nearby Seoul.

The slot machines in the lobby take about the same percentage

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I just read your column on young girls who are being turned into sex kittens by over-anxious mothers who want their daughters to be popular. You mentioned eye make-up, nylons and heels for skinny-legged 11-year olds, basketball hair-do's on 13-year-olds and going steady at 14.

The over-anxious mothers are getting a great assist from the eager characters who try to separate the fool from his dollar. Listen to this ad which appeared in a newspaper in another city. A friend sent it with a one word note: "Sickening!"

"Teen accounts welcomed. Rings with diamonds for the girl you are going with. Beautiful twin hearts with a sparkling diamond. Only $11.95. Can be paid out at 50c a week. Open your teen account today."

In the same ad was a picture of "Princess diamond ring—for your steady girl." This was priced at $39.50 and could be had for $1 a week. It boasted "15 brilliant diamonds." I would like your opinion of this.—PLENTY OLD-FASHION-ED.

Dear Plenty: Your friend's one-word comment expresses my sentiments perfectly. But don't blame the manufacturer, the advertiser or the retailer. They don't create customers. They simply give the customers what they want.

Teenagers who have been raised with decent values will laugh at such nonsense.

Dear Ann Landers: I address myself to the woman who calls herself a doctor's wife and signed her letter "Amazed at Your Ignorance."

I wish someone would remind these doctors' wives who are afraid their husbands might get a call at home that they chose the profession because they wanted to help people. The same goes for ministers. I am sick of hearing wives of doctors and clergymen complain because they are inconvenienced at odd hours.

We wonder why mental problems are on the increase? One reason may be that ministers and doctors are no longer available for consultation. They avoid you like the plague if they think you want to discuss a problem. People have no one to talk to anymore—and their troubles grow into illnesses.

Yes, I know there are psychiatrists and analysts but they have no place in the beginning—only after people are too sick to get help elsewhere. And not everyone can afford treatment.

So please tell these so-called "humanitarians" that service means putting the needs of others first. If they don't want to be bothered let them do something else and stop calling themselves doctors and ministers. — PITTSBURGH CITIZEN.

Dear Pittsburgh: It is grossly unfair to put all doctors and clergymen in the same barrel and tar them with the same brush. I know many doctors and clergymen who are dedicated to public service. I'm sorry you don't know them, too—your life would be incomparably richer if you did.

Dear Ann: Last winter I went on a strict diet and lost 45 pounds. I would not enter a Miss Universe contest but my figure is vastly improved and I'm proud of myself.

I have not owned a bathing suit since I was nine because I was so fat I refused to be seen in one. Of course I don't know how to swim. Would it be ridiculous for me to buy a suit this year and go to the beach?

My mother says it's a crazy idea. She claims it's the same as carrying a racket when you can't play tennis. Do you agree with her?—EX-HIPPO.

Dear Ex: No. Buy a bathing suit, go to the beach and get someone to teach you to swim.

Confidential to BRICK WALL: Why not make him a deal? Agree to let your hair grow back to its natural shade if he will agree to shave off his moustache. (I have a hunch you'd both look better.)

Poverty In America Real To Those Who Are Affected

EDITOR'S NOTE—Despite the current affluence of American society, some 32 million citizens still live on its fringes in varying states of poverty. Here is a report on the poor in America, their unique problems and what some experts propose as solutions.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—At a time of affluence, when most of us live in luxury our grandfathers could not even imagine, our free enterprise system has 32 million in poverty or clinging to its fringes.

And it has completely fallen down in finding work for four million who need it.

We point to technical advances so complex the mind boggles; to electronic devices that whirl out instant answers to incredible problems, to the moon, where we hope to place a pioneering space man.

Yet here on earth slums moulder, people live in squalor, the old find their alleged golden years tarnished and lonely, and the young are too often deprived of their greatest legacy: hope and the vision of something better.

All can agree that this is a disgrace in a modern age and in a favored land, an inhibiting, festering sore in the race against communism.

But at this point violent disagreements take over. With our vast knowledge, with our statistical bins filled to overflowing, no one can answer these questions:

Precisely at what point does a man become poor?

How many people are there?

Does a family which includes a father, a mother and two children aged 8 and 11 need $4,330 a year, as one study shows?

How much income does an old man or a widow need to avoid disaster?

Curiously, poverty is relative. The poorest of our poor might feel well off in other parts of a world in which two-thirds of the inhabitants have incomes of less than $200 a year.

But the United States is not India or Senegal or Bolivia. It has always been a nation of great expectations. And the harsh truth is that 30 years after the New Deal and the beginnings of a welfare state the very poor are not much, if any, better off than before.

How many people are poor? In his January State of the Union speech President Kennedy said: "32 million Americans still live on the outskirts of poverty."

Michael Harrington, in his angry book, "The Other America," puts the figure at between 40 and 59 million.

The Conference on Economic Progress has decided that 38 million live in poverty and another 39 million in deprivation. This group, which describes itself as private and non-profit, has its headquarters in the office of Leon H. Keyserling, who was President Truman's economic adviser.

The problem with these differing conclusions is people. They don't fit convenient pigeon holes. What is enough for one family is dark trouble for another. Illnesses or other emergencies can blacken the picture instantly. Many of the poor, like many of the well off, spend their money recklessly.

The best guess appears to be that a family is poor if its income falls below $4,000.

Furprisingly, 6,200,000 families are headed by a man or a woman an who is 65 or older. Almost two-thirds of these families have incomes of less than $4,000.

An irony of our technological age is that many are forced out of work early because of technical changes. Miracle drugs increase their life span. And for what? To end their lives in a ghetto for the aged, a familiar sight in nearly all large cities? To vegetate in rest homes? A Labor Department study shows that in 1961 some 9,600,000 workers were unemployed for as much as five weeks.
